

Face Masks & Eyewear

NHS SUPPLY CHAIN UPDATE

Following the recent NHS Supply Chain contract rationalisation for masks and eyewear, we understand that some of your preferred products may no longer be available from the NHS Supply Chain catalogue.

How will this affect me?

You will need to inform your supplies department of your intention to continue with your preferred choice of facial protection and that all orders are to be placed with Bunzl Healthcare. Bunzl Healthcare have a scheduled nationwide delivery service to your hospital on a frequent basis, with the added benefit of no delivery charges or minimum order quantities.

To assist you in your decision we are pleased to announce that through tough negotiation on your behalf, Shermond are able to offer cost reductions across the range. Furthermore, for customers willing to agree to call-off or standing orders, additional savings can be made.

You can continue to wear the familiar high quality protection and save money at the same time.

We know there are many of you who want to continue with the protection that the K-C Tecnol products offer, along with the quality service and training provided by Shermond.

For customers of FFP2 and FFP3 masks: It is important that the employer, when providing respiratory protective equipment (RPE), can demonstrate that suitable training has been provided to ensure the employee can safely use the RPE. The training should, at least, be equivalent to the fit test method as described in the Operational Circular OC 282/28.

The ACoPS (Approved Code of Practice) supporting the COSHH, CLAW and CAW regulations recommend that the initial selection of tight fitting facepieces should include a fit test. This is to ensure that the selected RPE has the potential to provide adequate protection for the wearer. The ACoPs have a meaning in law; if you follow the advice you will be doing enough to comply with the law.

Unlike some of the competition, Shermond will continue to support you and your employer with our documented and approved 'train the trainer' fit test programme at no additional cost.

Please note: fit testing is mask specific and not transferable between brands or models.

We look forward to hearing from you soon.
